

Commissioners,

There is already too much concentration of media ownership today. There many issues that the mainline media ignore until long after the information has been available in overseas or alternative media sources. When such diverse organizations and individuals as the NRA, the Roman Catholic Church and Ted Turner express serious objections, I am convinced that the pending reduction of restrictions of ownership are WRONG. The further expansion of ownership by Tom Hicks and Rupert Murdoch will only further stifle diversity of expression.